BIRDS AND MEN.
DETERDING AND PETINAX.
OIL FIELDS.

—By Arthur Brisbane—

ON the Red Bank, N. J., railroad station yesterday two large flag baskets and two pasteboard boxes with holes to admit air, were filled with carrier pigeons. A railroad man opened them, freeing four or five dozen birds. "I don't know where they come from or where they are going," said he. "They are often sent here to be turned loose. I suppose they go home."

THE BEAUTIFUL BIRDS, descendants of wild rock pigeons, found in steep Swiss canyons flew up in two groups, and for more than 10 minutes circled round and round, regaining their sense of direction.

Presently the two flocks united, flew off together in a northeasterly direction. "They always go over that building, after they fly around 10 or 15 minutes to make up their minds," said a bystander.

Presently flocks of young humans, released from their educational cages, will be turned loose in the world. It will take them more than 15 minutes to decide on direction, and many will never reach the destination. Some day when men shall have lived on earth as many millions of years as birds have lived here, they, too, will be born with a sense of direction, and know which way to go.

Looking after the flying birds, Courtland Smith said, "Landbergh must have in his brain the knowledge that guides them."

YESTERDAY TWO interesting men were in New York, where this is written. One, a Frenchman, who signs his writings "Petinax," has made Europe and this country his home as few writers have done in the last 50 years.

Americans that return from France, to tell amazed relatives about the lack of ice water, tell them also that the French are a very talkative people.

They would be surprised if they met "Petinax," who lists little, remembers everything, says little.

THE OTHER INTERESTING personality in New York was Europe, was Sir Henri W. A. Delord, K. B. E.

He is more than a K. B. E. As head of the Shell Oil Co., he has stood the American oil industry more or less on its head.

He looks something like Clemenceau, very much like the late Judge Gary. As an individual in business, fighting the power of the combined oil companies of the United States, he is a bigger figure in the oil industry all over the world than any one other man. Sixty-three years old, he lives on ocean steamers and in sleeping cars.

Asked when he came, he said, "From the Kettleman hill oil field in California."

That field belongs to Standard Oil of California. A wise man visits his competitor.

The most extraordinary oil field in the world, Deterding calls Kettleman hill, pumping out oil that is almost pure gasoline. If the supply lasts, as geologists think it will, there is, according to Deterding, no possibility of exaggerating the value of that field.

THE OIL BUSINESS is complicated. Deterding expects to buy some surplus gas on the Kettleman hills oil field, run it in pipes to oil fields of his own that are getting dried up, and sell the gas to the Standard Oil Co. at a profit.

THE GIRLS who were killed by the explosion of the Kettleman hill gas well, are being buried in the Kettleman hill cemetery.

Prison Tragedy Investigators Place Report With Governor

CONVICTS QUIET AFTER DAYS OF UNREST IN PEN

Bettman Asks Suspension Of Warden Thomas In His Report

VICTIMS' BURIAL SCHEDULED TODAY

Cause Of Fire Remaining Mystery After Days Of Survey

BULLETIN
COLUMBUS, April 26.—Governor Myers Cooper's commission investigating the tragic Ohio penitentiary fire which took a toll of 320 prisoner-lives, was to resume its probe today with Warden Preston E. Thomas as the only witness.

(By The Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, April 26.—The task of determining where to place responsibility for the loss of 320 lives in the Ohio penitentiary fire was faced by Governor Myers Y. Cooper today.

His decision will be made known early next week—possibly Monday—after he has studied a report of the state's official investigation which ended yesterday, just four days from the time flames and smoke made a death trap of a portion of the old prison.

At the same time, the governor is expected to reveal his attitude regarding a proposal by Attorney General Gilbert Bettman that Warden Preston E. Thomas be suspended temporarily. Bettman, who directed the investigation, suggested this action as a means of averting disorders at the prison where the convicts declared an open revolt and threatened to kill guards unless Thomas was removed.

Prison Now Quiet
In striking contrast to the general bedlam that followed the ghastly scenes of Monday night, the prison was quiet today, although the convicts maintained their opposition to Thomas.

The investigation as revealed by testimony before the board of inquiry failed to uncover anything that would indicate the cause of the fire, which had its origin in the roof of G and H cell block.

The governor, in studying the report from which he must make a finding, will have only the contradictory statements of prison officials.

VISITING GIRL BECOMES ILL

Japanese Ambassador Of Good Will Remains In New York

NEW YORK, April 26.—Another member of the little band of Japanese girls who came to thank America for aiding their country in the earthquake of 1923 has been stricken ill; leaving only three of the original five to journey to Northampton Friday to visit former President and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge.

Little Miss Yoshiko Matsudaira caught cold yesterday and was forbidden by physicians to venture into New England. Another member of the party was taken ill with influenza almost immediately upon arriving in California and remained there.

The girls will return to New York tonight.

Although all speak English, not a word was uttered by any of them at an interview on the train this morning.

Mr. John K. Caldwell, wife of a state department official who is chaperoning them, did the talking.

They were thrilled at Manhattan's skyline, she said, and somewhat appalled at the enormity of traffic.

But all these things they forgot entirely every morning when they were served pan-cakes and maple syrup for breakfast. Pancakes, Mrs. Caldwell said, and every little Nipponese smiled broadly in assent—was what they liked best about New York.

Portugal Swept By Severe Wind Storm

LISBON, PORTUGAL, April 26.—Northern Portugal was swept Friday by the storms which have pounded the coast line for the last 72 hours.

Many houses were wrecked in the village of Pareira Do Campo and a medieval church was blown down. The roof of the railway station was ripped off and carried several miles. Several peasants were injured and thousands of olive trees were uprooted.

Nominee

WALLACE TOWNSEND, Little Rock attorney and National Republican Committeeman from Arkansas, is slated for appointment by President Hoover as United States District Attorney from the eastern district of Arkansas.

COOPER ORDERS PRISONERS HELD IN COUNTY JAIL

Can Receive No More At Ohio Penitentiary For Some Time

LISBON, April 25.—Gov. Myers Y. Cooper has notified common pleas Judge W. F. Lones to send no more prisoners to the Ohio penitentiary until the institution can be placed in proper condition for the admission of additional men.

The wire to Judge Lones from Gov. Cooper reads:

"Owing to unsettled conditions at the penitentiary, necessitating the transfer of many prisoners, I request that you cooperate by sending no additional prisoners to the penitentiary from your court for a limited time, until we can provide for their proper care at the penitentiary."

Criminal cases have been assigned for trial before Judge Lones next week, and should there be occasion to sentence prisoners to the penitentiary, these will be held at the county jail until a change in the situation at Columbus is reported.

The court clerk stated that he did not know of favor upon suspended sentences.

GRAF ON TRIP OVER ENGLAND

Giant Dirigible Follows Course Which War-Time Airships Used To Germany

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, GERMANY, April 26.—Retracing in peace the route flown with deadly intent during the war by the imperial army Zeppelins, the dirigible Graf Zeppelin today cruised northwestward from Friedrichshafen to pay London a visit.

The giant airship left its hangar here at 6:02 a. m. (12:02 a. m. E. S. T.) in brilliant sunshine for the 450-mile trip to London, and from there to Cardington, where, grounding momentarily, her master, Dr. Hugo Eckener, will be picked up and brought back to Germany.

Twenty-two passengers were aboard the dirigible, among them Lady Grace Drummond Hay. Others were to be picked up for the return trip at Cardington, where the R-106, which transcends the Graf in size and which will fly to Canada next month is housed.

Mrs. Hoover Shows Much Improvement

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Mrs. Herbert Hoover, whose back was painfully wrenched in a fall nearly two weeks ago, now has a wheel chair to enable her to move about the White House without aggravating the annoying injury.

Although the president's wife has remained in the White House since the fall, the injury is regarded in no way as being serious and has responded to treatment.

SCHOOL RECORDS FALL AS SALEM TAKES CARNIVAL

Stonemen Lead Field Of Fifteen Schools In Night Track Meet

WALKER, SMITH SET NEW MARKS

Canton McKinley Second In Ohio's First Night Event

Interested but still somewhat skeptical, a large gathering of northeastern Ohio fans assembled as spectators at the first annual Salem High night relay carnival under the floodlights of Reilly stadium here last night.

Track and field representatives from 17 Ohio schools competed in the relays and 16 of the contestants were forced to bow before the superior display of talent of the well-balanced aggregation now being instructed in the ways of running, weight-heaving, hurdling and jumping by one Floyd W. Stone, Salem High's squadron of tracksters.

Highlighted the Red and Black to victory in their second competitive affair of the 1930 track season, just narrowly losing out to Canton McKinley's aggregation by a 48-to-43 score.

The fact that the meet was being held in a hitherto unprecedented manner, namely after sundown and under artificial lights, became a side issue with fans as the battle for honors flared down into a three-cornered affair between Salem, McKinley and a delegation from John Adams High of Cleveland.

That was a track and field event that had everything and much more than the usual meet, and, with the exception of cool night breezes that permeated the atmosphere and sent many home before the contests were completed there was little difference between it and the usual afternoon competition.

Two Crash Records
Coach Stone's lads stepped into the battle intent on victory from the start and before the 18th and last event had been run two of his lads had crashed into the lime-light through the medium of two new high school records while his entire team held the edge all the way and seemed destined to win by a wide margin.

All rubbish to be hauled away must be placed in a container of some sort that can be placed on the truck.

STARK HOSPITAL ARCHITECT GETS TERM IN PRISON

Albert L. Thayer Will Be Free Pending Appeal From Sentence

(By The Associated Press)
CANTON, O., April 26.—Albert L. Thayer, New Castle, architect for Stark county's $1,000,000 tuberculosis hospital, was sentenced to from 20 months to 10 years in the Ohio penitentiary for soliciting a bribe of $7,500 from George F. S. Melbourne, contractor for the hospital.

Sentence was pronounced by Judge Charles Krichbaum, Friday.

Execution of sentence was delayed 30 days to enable the architect's attorneys to file an appeal.

As architect for the hospital Thayer was accused of soliciting $7,500 from Melbourne on a deal whereby the linoleum requirement for the institution was excluded from the official set of specifications.

Melbourne testified that not only was there a solicitation, but that he actually paid the architect $6,500, and agreed to pay the remainder at a later time.

Thayer denied the allegation in its entirety and sought to prove that Melbourne's attitude toward him was occasioned by a personal difference between the two men which arose some years ago in the course of the construction of a school building in which they were interested as architect and builder respectively.

Great Decrease In Township Population

AUGUSTA, ME., April 26.—The population of "township 5, range 12" in Piscataquis county, has dropped 93.3 per cent in the past 10 years. The present population is one.

The 1920 federal census showed the township to have a population of 147 persons.

The enumerator this year in reporting the big decline said that 10 years ago there was a good sized lumbering operation under way, and the 147 persons were all employed in the camp. Since then lumbering has been abandoned and the lone resident is the keeper.

Postman Paroled

CINCINNATI, April 26.—Enryad Bowden, Hamilton letter carrier, was paroled in custody of his employer, Lucien Kahn, after receiving a suspended 12 months sentence in Cincinnati workhouse on a charge of stealing from the mails. A number of Hamilton business men told Federal Judge R. R. Nevins that Bowden became a victim of loan sharks on account of illness in his family.

Sheriff's Faith In Prisoners Seems Justified After Break

(By The Associated Press)
NOCOGUCHES, TEXAS, April 26.—Sheriff Eugene Turner, who has been accused of undisciplined and partially justified, today waited patiently for six escaped prisoners to return to the county jail as they have promised.

Early Thursday night the sheriff was awakened by a voice speaking from the darkness.

"Some of you boys sawed our way out of your jail about five or six hours ago," the voice said. "We all left you a note saying what time we'd be back. I wrote you I would return about 5:30 a. m. and here I am."

PLANE REPORTED FOUND IN RIVER

Attorney Sends Word To Find If Rewards Are Still Standing

ASHLAND, KY., April 26.—C. H. Bruce, a Greenup attorney, claims that an airplane which was believed to have fallen into the Ohio river several weeks ago had been found.

Bruce telephoned the Ashland Independent to ask if rewards still totaling $150 for reporting the plane still were good.

The plane was reported by workers in a chemical plant near Greenup to have fallen into the river and spurned on by the reward scores of persons grappled for it for more than a week. The identity of the plane was never established nor was it ever reported that any plane in this section was missing.

Bruce was told that the Independent's record still stood but that it was not known by whether the $100 offered by Lawrence county, Ohio, and the $25 offered by the Ironton, O. News still would be paid.

DAYLIGHT-TIME STARTS SUNDAY

Designed To Give Indoor Workers More Time In Open During Hours Of Light

NEW YORK, April 26.—Timepieces here and in many other cities will be an hour fast, compared with standard time, from tomorrow until the last Sunday in September.

The official hour for changing to daylight saving time, is 2 a. m., but most persons will make the change before going to bed.

The change will afford an added hour of daylight to give indoor workers an opportunity to indulge in outdoor recreation.

Daylight saving time will go into effect in virtually all the cities in New York state, which has statutory local option on the matter.

In New York city all business places including the stock exchange, and governmental offices will use daylight time.

CONGESTION IN STRUCTURE HIT IN OHIO REPORT

Has Served As Prison For Nearly 100 Years; Overcrowded

CRIME, DISEASE BREED, IS CLAIM

Called Worst In State By Inspectors; New Jail Is Needed

LISBON, April 26.—In reports submitted to county commissioners by inspectors of the state department of Public welfare, it has been openly declared that "the congestion in the Columbiana county jail is becoming more intolerable each year."

This old jail building, located at North Market and West High streets, was first opened for the "reception" of prisoners Sept. 9, 1839, and therefore has been in service 91 years next fall.

A few minor changes have been made in and about the old brick building. The structure has been condemned by the State Welfare department, and recently the department strongly opposed the use of the building for jail purposes.

S. C. Griffin, investigator for the welfare department, who made the last inspection of the 91-year-old building in a report to Judge W. F. Lones said:

"Long as Crime, Disease, and Misconduct have been the cause of its jail problem by defeat of bond issues, just so long will there be attempted jail deliveries and increasing problems of discipline. A jail of this character which throws all grades of crimes and disease together in closest contact must inevitably breed crime and disease."

There are nine cells in the present old jail building, wherein two prisoners can be conveniently kept in a cell, but according to Sheriff W. J. Barlow, the population at one time was 57 prisoners, and an average of from 30 to 40 prisoners are kept in the building all the time.

In an inspection report previously filed with the county commissioners by Inspector E. U. Whitacre, the building was put down as being without fire protection, that it is

CHANGE HARDING HIGHWAY ROUTE

Alliance, Salem Off Of List; Steubenville Is Put On

CANTON, April 26.—The Harding highway, which stretches for 265 miles across Ohio, will pass through Steubenville instead of Alliance and Salem. Change of the route was approved at a meeting here of officials of the Harding Highway Association and the Ohio Good Roads federation.

More than $7,500,000 will be needed to repair and complete the highway through Ohio, according to figures presented at the meeting by Carl J. Ogden, Gallon, president of the association. This fund will be raised by assessing each community along the route.

The highway project was started in honor of the late President Warren G. Harding. It will connect Washington, D. C., the scene of his political life, and San Francisco, where he died. It will pass through Marion, O., his hometown, where an imposing monument has been erected to his memory.

AMERICAN LINER HITS FREIGHTER

British Vessel Sinks, But Crew Is Rescued With Only One Exception, Fog Blamed

HAMBURG, April 26.—The American liner, President Harding, inward bound and making for the mouth of the Elbe river, collided in a fog off Heligoland this morning with the British collier, Kirkwood, which sank.

The President Harding rescued all of the Kirkwood's crew with the exception of one fireman who was missing.

The President Harding, proceeding to Hamburg, found the fog so dense that she was compelled to anchor off Heligoland light house, No. 1.

No one was injured aboard the American liner, the damage to her was of very slight nature.

The President Harding was able to continue under her own steam toward Hamburg where she was expected to arrive later in the afternoon.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

AVOID A WEAK HEART

Good health of the heart depends very much upon the general good health of an individual. If you take care of the simple things in daily living, the big things will take care of themselves.

Eating the right food, getting proper exercise to keep the body in good condition, having adequate sleep and rest. These have a direct bearing upon heart health and general health alike.

The heart, which is the engine of your body, does a wonderful piece of work for you. It pumps away, day and night, to make possible all the things you wish to do. Like any other machine, it must have its rest periods. It, too, suffers from the wear and tear of life. Of course it never does stop beating but Nature has provided a time for it to slow down and recuperate. This it does during sleep.

The heart is made up of muscles which contract and expand in a rhythmic beat. Under normal conditions, the heart rests one-tenth of a second after each beat. This short rest permits it to store up sufficient energy for its contraction period. You cannot be well nourished, strong and full of energy unless your heart is able to do its full duty. It cannot do its full duty unless your heart muscles are well-nourished and vigorous.

What the heart will or will not do depends on the heart muscles. The heart, doing its work as it does by the action of its muscles, cannot work properly unless they are adequately fed, regularly exercised and guarded against poisoning through toxic substances set up in the body or by other poisons.

The food we eat must be prepared by the blood. The blood cannot do its good work unless it has a good heart to send it throughout the body. The heart, too, has to be properly fed and nourished.

Today when the fact is to be thin, many a poor heart is undernourished. Underfeeding is bound to make the heart suffer.

For the muscles of the body and muscles of the heart we need protein foods for tissue building—lean meats, milk, cheese, the cereals and eggs; here must be regular intake of these foods or the heart grows weak.

The heart is hooked up with the body so that it shares all the benefits as well as all the disadvantages of the body. When you have poisons in the body, arising from chronic sores, bad teeth and tonsils, chronic indigestion and constipation, the chances are that soon your heart will feel the bad effects.

Some mineral poisons have a way of undermining the heart action. Lack of iron in the food is another factor.

When you walk, run or indulge in sports the heart beats faster, with shorter rest periods in consequence. A great and sudden strain is put upon the heart and it has to accommodate itself to the added burden. If the muscles are fortified by nourishing food and right living you can see that it will be a more efficient machine to bear the great strain put upon it.

The emotions have an immediate effect upon the heart. News of an accident to someone near to you or any other emotional experience which brings a sudden strain on the heart is more easily born by the heart if it is in good condition. When you take care of yourself in what you eat, how you exercise, how you work and how you rest, you are storing up the necessary health and vigor of heart and body necessary for future emergencies.

Girls and boys in school and college should realize this. Too often we hear of the boy or girl who has been over doing in athletics in school or college. Athletics and sports in moderation are exceedingly good, but in excess they are harmful to the heart.

Vacation time will soon be here. Have a good time and enjoy every moment of it, but take your sports in moderation and come home rested and better fit for the daily round of living.

Answers to Health Queries

D. R. Q.—What do you advise for pimples?

A.—First correct the diet, by cutting down on sugar, starches and coffee. Eat simple food. Avoid constipation.

E. Y. S. Q.—What will make the eyelashes grow?

A.—Apply one per cent yellow oxide of mercury ointment at night. This should help you.

F. M. B. Q.—What do you advise for removing superfluous hair?

A.—Until the use of the x-ray was discovered the only known and certain way of removing superfluous hair was by the use of the electric needle. When the needle is properly used there is little scarring of the skin, but it must be employed by an expert. On the whole it is safer than the x-ray and gives permanent relief. Highlights Of Ohio History

By J. H. GALBRAITH

In 1847 Albert Brisbane devoted himself to the organization of Fourier communities in America based on social theories of Francois Charles Marie Fourier, who lived between 1772 and 1837 and developed a plan of socialism. While he was living Fourier's work received little notice, but a few years after his death attracted much attention.

Under Brisbane his teachings obtained quite a vogue in the United States and 34 organizations were formed mostly in the west and in the north. Brook Farm, Mass., being one of them. One was located in Franklin Township, Clermont county, Ohio. It was established in 1844, and its members bought three considerable tracts of land and erected a number of buildings, but at the end of two years, dissatisfied with conditions and an increasing debt, the members voted to disband and sell their property.

A spiritualist association bought the buildings and formed a purely communist association but in 1847 their principal building fell, undermined by the great flood and seventeen persons perished in it. The enterprise ended with that calamity.

A little later another Fourierite organization was established by Henry Jernigan of Utopia, on the Ohio river at the southernmost point

A Few Cents For Good Light makes better report cards

EVENING study at its best is hard for children. They become tired and drowsy when they must strain their eyes in light that is dim or glaring. Children who suffer from eyestrain are retarded in school.

When good eyes mean so much and good light is so cheap why try to economize? A few cents an evening will pay for all you use.

WHEAT REDUCING METHOD SCORED

Farmer Could Not Lower Acreage, Kansas Chief Tells Board Head

TOPEKA, April 25.—Taking issue again with the federal farm board's proposals for a reduction in the country's wheat acreage, Gov. Clyde M. Reed of Kansas asserted in a letter to Alexander Legge, chairman of the board, that such a program is unwarranted at this time.

Quoting the 1928 Republican national platform, Governor Reed said he was "quite certain it was not in the mind of anyone at that time that placing the agricultural interests of America on a basis of economic equality with other industries meant that the farmer would have to reduce his production, which has always been on an export basis, to a basis of domestic requirements."

The governor's lengthy letter quoted statistics to show the country's population in the past 30 years had increased faster than its production of wheat and that "as a result" exports of the grain from the United States during the past six years were less than they were 30 years ago.

He expressed hope that the "relative short" world crop of 1929 would cause the carry-over produced by the plentiful crops of the two preceding years to disappear, and that "at the end of this crop year the world wheat conditions would be restored to what might be fairly termed a 'normal condition.'"

Wife Feared For Husband Long Dead

COLUMBUS, April 26.—Alarmed by news of the high death toll in the Ohio penitentiary fire, Mrs. Edie Russell, of Cleveland wrote to P. E. Thomas to inquire if her husband, William Russell, was among the victims.

Thomas looked up the prison records and found that William Russell, sentenced from Cleveland for house burglary, died in the prison hospital on June 7, 1926.

Four years ago, and the inquiring wife knew nothing about it. She said in her letter she had been sick and had been unable to visit her husband.

Records do not show what disposition was made of Russell's body.

COUNTY JAIL

un sanitary, unsafe and unfit for human occupancy, and the report further adds "and it is hereby condemned and its future use as a jail or residence is forbidden."

This report was filed with county commissioners as of Aug. 24, 1922.

In an additional report filed with the commissioners by the welfare department after an inspection of the old jail building by Cora C. C. Carley, it is said:

"It is unnecessary to recount conditions in this jail, which are steadily growing worse. There is no county jail in Ohio any where near so bad from every standpoint, and it is a menace to the health and life of every prisoner confined there. The jail should be rebuilt at once, and we doubt the advisability of an attempt to remodel. The accumulation of many years have made the building unsafe for repair. The men's cell block in the basement can never be converted into a sanitary place for habitation."

When Inspector Whitacre made a survey of the jail building, he made a report that at that time 18 persons were confined in a space 16 by 5 by 7 feet high. He also declared that the cell used for insane persons "extremely hazardous" on account of a number of iron hinges protruding from the walls. Any person confined there might be killed or seriously injured by coming into contact with these projections. Prisoners are confined in the basement which is almost wholly below grade."

Voters' Warning Issue
Despite the warnings that have been issued to the county by state inspectors, the voters of the county have twice rejected a proposed bond issue for a new jail building.

Grand juries have commended those in charge of the old jail for what they have done under existing conditions, but nevertheless in the report of the most recent inspection submitted to Judge Lones by the department of public welfare, the text concludes with this statement: "We trust, however, that the next regular election will see this issue once more to the front with the officers of the county solidly back of it."

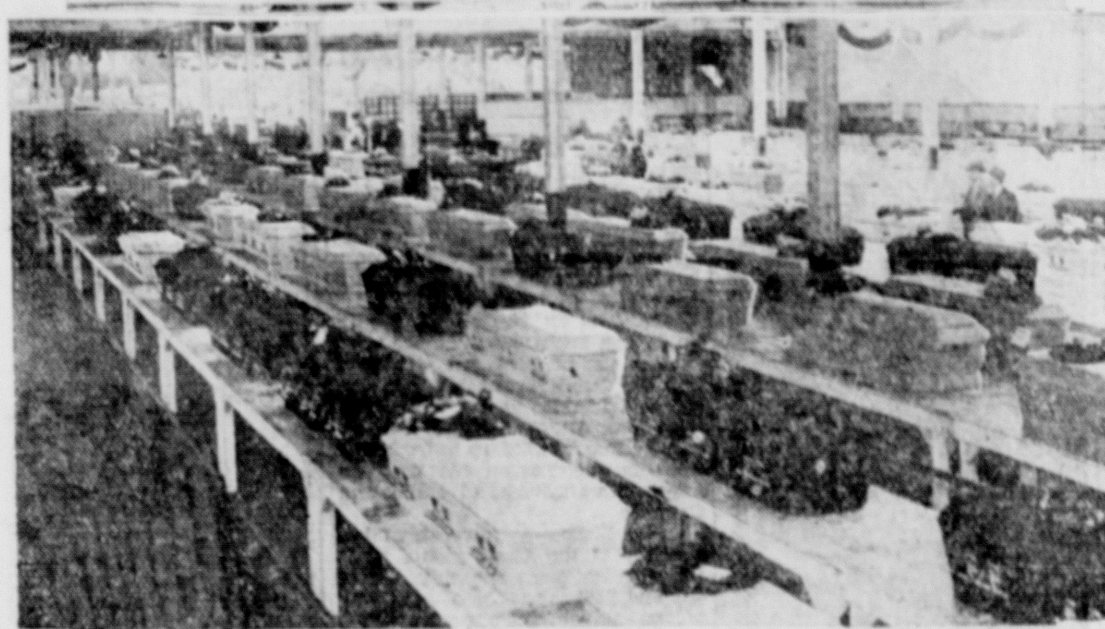

"The food served is much above the average, and every effort is being made to keep the jail as orderly as possible with three times as many prisoners as the jail can safely contain under established rules and regulations of cubic breathing space."

No prisoners now are permitted to be kept at the county jail for a longer period than six months.

BOWLING GREEN, April 26.—In a district elimination contest of seven colleges, Stanley Jeffrey of University of Toledo and John A. Stipp of Bluffton college were chosen to represent western Ohio in the finals of the state peace oratorical contest to be held at Columbus May 9.

STEUBENVILLE, April 26.—An automobile struck and killed Joseph Weindradio, 42, Yorkville, O., here late yesterday. F. L. Stiles of Zanesville, driver of the car, was exonerated.

Narrower Cells Are Theirs Now

Officials guards and convicts concerning efforts to rescue the smothering men. Some of the witnesses gave the opinion that most, if not all, of the men could have been saved had the cage door leading to the cells been opened promptly and others blamed arguments between the guards for the delay.

"Door Not Locked"
The final witness, Guard Hubert L. Richardson, however, started the questions with the statement that the door in question was never kept locked.

The investigators did not indicate whether their report would recommend changes in the administrative personnel of the penitentiary. It was believed certain, however, that the cause of the fire would be gone into.

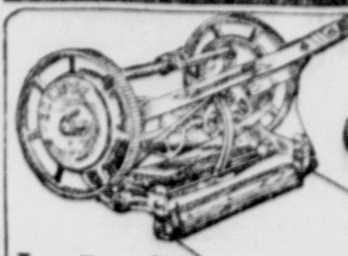

Although leaders of the insurgent prisoners have said that no violence is planned in their "passive resistance" program, an augmented guard remained at the penitentiary today to handle the 3,577 prisoners within the walls, there were 60 penitentiary guards, while 525 national guardsmen and 49 officers were stationed on the outside, ready for any emergency that might arise.

Many On Guard
During the week there were as many as 1150 guardsmen and 117 officers on duty. The officers included sheriff's deputies and Columbus city police.

Sixty-seven of the 320 fire victims will rest in Columbus cemeteries. Eighteen of the bodies were unidentified, while 49 were unclaimed by relatives. Eastlawn cemetery was selected as the burial place for the white prisoners. The bodies, in plain caskets, will repose side by side in two huge graves. Similar arrangements were made at Evergreen cemetery, the burial place of the Negroes.

The burials, originally scheduled for yesterday, were postponed until 11 a. m. today in the hope that relatives might yet call at the temporary morgue at the state fair grounds to claim additional bodies or establish the identity of the unknown dead.

MINISTER TAKES WITNESS STAND

Tears Flow As Version Of Shooting Is Told In Illinois Court

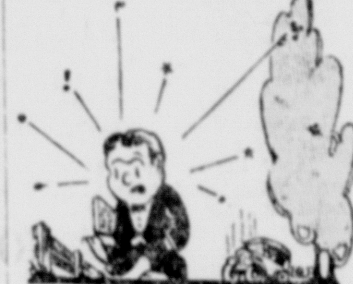

OTTAWA, ILL., April 26.—As women members of his congregation wept, Rev. James A. Wilson, pastor of the First Methodist church of Mendota, took the stand today in his trial for shooting of Amos Elliot, 69 year old sexton of his church, and Elliot's wife. They were shot by the preacher as they struggled to retain a letter which the pastor admitted writing to a widow.

The preacher cried as defense counsel questioned him concerning events prior to the shooting and pastor's futile attempts to take his own life while an officer stood on the porch of the parsonage.

Rev. Wilson said he had been ailing last winter and had contemplated suicide. He gave that as the reason for carrying a pistol Jan. 29 when he went to retrieve the letter he had written Mrs. Emma Warner.

"I got the letter," he testified, and was stuffing it in my pocket and starting for the door when Elliot grabbed for it. Things went black and I drew my gun and fired. I don't know how many shots I fired but the first I remember was when Mrs. Wilson, who had accompanied me, was shaking me and telling me not to do any more shooting."

The defendant said he then went home and got out some insurance papers and reloaded his pistol. When he saw police officers coming

Prisoners To Hold Memorial Service

COLUMBUS, April 26.—Ohio penitentiary convicts who survived the fire in which 320 of their fellow prisoners met death, will honor the memory of the victims Sunday morning with memorial services in the prison chapel. Convicts will conduct and render the program, which will not be broadcast. Since the prisoners will fill the chapel, the public will not be admitted.

Chaplain K. E. Wall said today that the program would open under direction of O. U. Gardner, a prisoner, at 9 a. m. Gardner was the man who broadcast a description of the fire over a nation hookup Monday night.

PARKER DEBATE COMES MONDAY

Opposition Claims Enough Votes To Defeat Appointment To Supreme Bench

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Enough votes to reject the nomination of Judge John J. Parker, as an associate justice of the supreme court, were claimed today by the senate group which is opposing the confirmation.

Administration leaders refused to admit defeat, but frankly conceded that a hard, up-hill battle was in prospect. A move to have President Hoover withdraw the nomination, to which vigorous objection has been raised by labor and Negro organizations, was supported by some members of the regular Republican bloc.

Taking up the Parker case on Monday, opposing forces in the senate will come to grips with a supreme court nomination at stake, for the second time within a few months. In February a bitter battle was waged over the appointment of Charles Evans Hughes as chief justice and a vote of confirmation was obtained only after a rapidly growing opposition had threatened to bring about the rejection of the nomination.

There are treasures on this earth. They are very valuable. There are treasures in heaven. Their value is far beyond anything that the eye of man has ever seen. It is possible for you to have treasures both in heaven and on earth. The big difficulty is that when earthly treasures are possessed, then one may be satisfied. Worldly possessions may be the lock that keeps the door to heaven closed to us.

The presence of Jesus Christ always caused a stir wherever he was. Even His enemies were moved by His presence. It was a different influence that He had upon His disciples and friends. They were stirred by the holy presence of the Son of God. They were moved to the depths of their souls when the risen Lord recognized, walked with them along the way. Is your soul moved as you come in touch with Him who is the light of the world?

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

Combined with some of the cereals, cheese makes an adequate main dish—for a luncheon, or for a simple supper. No, it isn't "indigestible," as is frequently averred, unless incorrectly cooked or served. The habit of eating a liberal portion of cheese at the end of a solid dinner is in the same category as eating eggs at the finish. Cheese is a protein and in the egg and meat class.

Also, when cooking cheese it must be remembered that it is easily spoiled. Too high a temperature, or too long cooking will make it tough or stringy, and give it an undesirable bad reputation.

American and Swiss cheese are both excellent for cooking purposes, either melted or grated.

Rice and Cheese
1/2 pound American or Swiss cheese
1 cup cooked rice

2 cups tomato pulp, fresh or canned.
4 eggs, hard boiled
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Place cooked rice in a buttered baking dish and cover with a few spoonfuls of tomato. Slice the eggs over this mixture, then add more rice and tomato and eggs until

LIQUOR SEEKER SHOT TO DEATH

Wanted Boozie After Bootleg Joint Had Closed; Police Find Cache of Liquor

CLEVELAND, April 26.—Edward Lucas, 21, was shot and killed early today because of his insistence upon buying liquor at an alleged speakeasy which had closed shop for the night, according to information obtained by police.

Five companions of Lucas said that all went to an east side house to buy liquor, but were refused because the place was closed for the night, police said. An argument developed and all but Lucas fled. A few minutes later Lucas fell with a bullet wound in his heart.

Police entered the place and found 30 gallons of alleged liquor, but were unable to find the proprietor.

The slaying occurred a short distance from East 110th st. and Woodland ave., Cleveland's "bloody corner" where a number of bootleg feuds have been settled with bullets.

Scanning New Books

Exile
By Warwick Deeping

Warwick Deeping needs no introduction to the English and American public. Ever since his first best seller "Sorrell and Son" his books have been looked forward to with a good bit of anticipation.

"Exile" is an English story with an Italian background. Tindaro has become the refuge for a "group of human derelicts," basking in the sun and drinking at the Cafe Ceres. Billy Brown, young lovely and capable comes to Tindaro to begin her work in the English Library. She comes with a spirit of adventure and romance.

Oscar Slade, a novelist, and a member of the Ceres group, finds this English girl something different and Billy, unaware of his many affairs and corrupt morals, finds herself very much in love with him. But one affair too many leads to his violent death, by one of the discarded ladies.

After Oscar's death and his character has been disclosed to Billy, she throws herself into her work, with her head held high, and Tindaro loses it's romance, and becomes to Billy just a small Italian village asleep beside the blue Mediterranean.

Then comes Isherwood in an attempt to regain health in the Italian sunlight, but not caring a great deal whether he does or not, Billy aroused with pity and fighting spirit, falls in love once more and finds that Tindaro has adventure in the sun and romance and adventure are still there.

Mr. Deeping has again produced a very real character as well as a delightful novel.

Animals Looking At You
By Paul Eipper

Mr. Eipper's earliest memories date back to the time when his father was a stockholder of the Zoological Gardens. He is now art director for one of the leading publishing houses in Berlin, and every spare minute is spent at the Berlin Zoo or in some other zoological garden. Among the animals of the zoo, he has many friends and in his first book "Animals Looking At You" he has made those same animals, friends of yours. Not one has been omitted from the elephant to the turtle.

The Orang-Outangs have a special interest with their very human actions. One of them, Pessek by name, found a thin piece of wire in her cage. She immediately set to work to produce a needle. When it was accomplished she tried to pin together the curtains of her cage.

Did you ever wonder how the elephants sleep? Then you should go into the elephant house with Mr. Eipper and see their huge bodies lying in the deep straw and hear their heavy breathing.

And what a day it was in the zoological kingdom in 1927, when word was received that twenty-five apes were being shipped from the Sumatra jungles.

The book is well written and beautifully illustrated. When you finish, you no longer have the feeling of pity for the poor animals behind bars. You know they are being well taken care of and their fight for existence has ended and life has become a regular happy routine to them.

STARTER A STAR
COLUMNIST HERE

George W. Thompson, secretary of the Association for Colored Community Work in Akron, O., who served as referee and official starter of Salem's first night track meet and relay carnival, was a well known figure in track athletics a quarter of a century ago.

At the University of Indiana he ran for three years as anchor man on the varsity mile relay team and performed so consistently in the quarter mile dash that he was chosen to represent the United States in the Olympic games in St. Louis in 1904.

Thompson's accuracy and integrity as an official starter have made his services much in demand at track meets throughout northeastern Ohio and this is the third year in which he has started off races with a bang in Salem.

During the World War Thompson served overseas as a Y. M. C. A. secretary. He is an erator of note and an authority on race relations. He was accompanied to Salem Friday by H. Parker Lowell, columnist of the Akron Times-Press, who served as secretary of the Salem Chamber of Commerce in 1922 and 1923.

Smith Establishes New Discus Mark; H. Walker Batters Own Mile Time

Stonemen Nose Out Canton McKinley Tracksters In Sensational Contests At Reilly Stadium With 18 Ohio Schools Competing Here

A wide margin of points until McKinley's belated spurt with only four events to go.

The new school records were created by William "Bill" Smith and Harold Walker, the district's outstanding performers in the art of discus-throwing and mile-running, respectively. Smith heaved the weight twice past the 120-foot mark, his best throw being measured at 121 ft. 5 1/2 in. and sent into history of bygone incidents the record established by Russell "Bus" Meyers away back in 1916.

Walker broke his own record in the mile when he stepped the 5.280 feet in exactly four minutes and 40 seconds.

The home-towners gave their first indication that they would be an obstacle to the victorious aspirations of other contending squads when they rolled up 19 points in the first four events on the program. John Adams, by virtue of a dash of class high jumping mixed in with talented work in the shot put and 220 in afternoon preliminaries, had appeared the favorite, but the Stonemen quickly advanced to this rating and with only four more contests scheduled, were leading the Cleveland squad by 13 1/2 and Canton by 13 points.

M. Whinnery Third In 100
Senai (John Adams) took first place in the 100-yd dash, Myron Whinnery (Salem) placing third, in the first track event but the Red and Black's two-mile relay squad took the next race with ease following which the Walker brothers secured six points in the mile run for Salem. Salem failed to place in the 440-yd dash, Canton getting two places but in the fifth event, the discus, Bill and Ray Smith tallied a combined total of seven points, the latter getting fourth place.

The Stonemen were scoreless in the sprint medley relay, finishing far behind the field. Thompson, involved in a high hurdle race that indicated from the start that he was outclassed, ran his best race of the season to place third. The pole vault failed to come up to expectations, Ed Beck dropping out under 11 ft while Lambeth (Canfield) and Appley (Akron East), two of the best athletes in the meet, were unable to go much higher. This latter pair tied for first place at 11 ft, even, both having previously gone over 11 ft. 6 in. Miller (Salem) registered one and a half points for the Stonemen with a tie for fifth. Ed Beck tied for fifth in the high jump, won by Jukez of John Adams.

Terry Second In Shot
Conrad (Wooster) bettered a 44 ft. 8 in. heave accredited to John Terry (Salem) with a toss of 45 ft. 5 in. and took the event, the Salem lad taking second. Bill Smith placed fifth and Salem appeared more certain than ever to win by a safe margin of points. The Red and Black failed to score in the 220-yd dash, won by Senai (John Adams) and for the first time it appeared that slugging in the future for Stone's proteges would be tougher.

The aspect brightened with the conclusion of the next race, however, Keith Harris, youthful Salem freshman, putting in a great exhibition in the half-mile run to almost grab a first place. Ken Wachnauer, Leetonia running ace, led the field nearly all the way but was passed in the middle of the final lap by Gottschall, Canton sophomore. Gottschall staged a late spurt with a half a lap to go. Harris also stepped out, passed Wachnauer and climbed within a nose of the Stark countant but, was unable to press ahead. Irwin Beck, who defeated Harris in the school interclass meet, was fifth.

Canton Issues Threat

Canton tallied 15 points to Salem's one in the next three contests, the half-mile relay, the 220-yd low hurdles and the mile relay. McKinley took first in the two relays and third and fourth in the hurdles. Henry Reese placed third in the broad jump with a leap of 19 ft. 11 in. and only two events were left, Salem being ahead by three points. Ward Young's javelin talent, Schott, placed fourth in the spear-throwing competition, bringing the scoring contest within one point of a tie, Salem still holding the edge, 43 to 42.

Everything Hinged on the Result of the Last Event, the Four-Mile Relay

Canton, however, was outclassed in this event by Stone's star distance quarter, Sammy Drakulich, Brantingham and the Walkers. The relay became a duel race between H. Walker and Huse of Rayen, the Salem star winning by fractions.

Salem Takes 2 Firsts

Salem took only three firsts in the entire meet but had two seconds, four thirds, a fourth and tie for fourth and four-fifths and one tie.

Lambeth proved to be the outstanding individual athlete in the meet, taking scoring honors. The Canfield senior failed to win a first but tied for first and second in the pole vault, took second in the broad jump and third in the javelin and shot put for 14 1/2 points.

Appley was second with 13 1/2 points getting a first and tie for first and second in the low hurdles. Sweeney of Youngstown South was third in scoring, getting 10 1/2 points.

HOOVER offers

TWO NEW MODELS
at no price increase

Just at housecleaning time, when women need the most efficient cleaning aids available Hoover introduces two new models, offering cleaning efficiency quite without parallel.

The new Model 725 Hoover is the finest electric cleaner ever made. It is 25% more efficient than the previous Hoover—and it has many new conveniences not available before.

The new Model 575 Hoover also offers materially increased efficiency over the previous popular-priced Hoover. It has a new ball-bearing motor and other improvements.

Neither model has been increased in price one penny over the machine it replaces. The terms, too, remain the same—only $6.25 down; the balance monthly. There is a liberal allowance for your old cleaner.

We cordially invite you to have a home demonstration of either of these remarkable new Hoovers. Simply telephone your request.
